c1111_28_08_2009_105308

00:00:00 Fire weather forecast for today Friday August 28th. A strong upper level high pressure system will remain anchored over southern California through Saturday. Near the surface the flow will remain weakly off shore in the morning.

the next few days widespread triple digit temperatures are expected today through Saturday with hottest inland locations ranging between one hundred and five and one hundred and ten degrees. Some costal locations will soar over one hundred degrees again today. Break.

00:00:00 Continuing widespread single digit humidity's are expected to continue through at least this evening. The mountains and adjacent foot hills will continue with the longest duration of single digit humidity's. With many locations exceeding critical ten hour durations today along with very poor recoveries at night. Periods of single digit humidity's are also expected for portions of the coast and valleys during the next few days. It is generally not expected to exceed critical ten hour durations required for red flag warning. The combination of long duration single digit humidity's and hot temperatures and critically dry fuel has prompted a red flag warning. Hot and dry conditions are expected to persist on Saturday. With possible extension of red flag warnings in the mountains. A cooling trend is expected during the extended period. Break.

00:00:03 Edward twelve from one Charlie one can you, we have a male hiker and a dog at the intersection of Red Box and Angeles Crest that needs to be evacuated. Can you respond to that location and see if you can find the hiker?

00:00:20 Affirmative I'm at Mill Creek I need one Charlie one to find a way to close off the Forest highway. Big T's closed and of course the Crest is closed. If he could have Palmdale service do that or CHP that'd be great and I'll head over towards the hiker.

00:00:40 I copy confirming that the Forest Highway needs to be closed.
